

GOVERNOR

Pam Hubbard passed the 5 minute 140 w.p.m. Gregg shorthand test, the first student at Riggs High to do this for a number of years.

The Drama Club has elected their officers for next year. They are as follows: President is Vada Trimble, Vice President is Teri Harding, Secretary Treasurer is Kay Cameron and Martha Ackerman is publicity chairman.

Bill Flannery was elected president of the National Honor Society May 4, at a meeting held by the present members of this organization. Those also chosen to hold office were: Frank Halligan - vice-president; Lois Snow - secretary; and Peggy Carl - treasurer.

FHA'ers were out on the town after school April 28th, selling cookbooks. Several members took three kinds of cookbooks, dessert, salad, and casserole and sold them in various parts of town. These cookbooks contain recipes of Home Economics teachers from all over the United States.

The money received will go to a fund to help send Sharla McKay and Nancy Tobin to the National FHA convention to be held in Philadelphia this summer.

"I will, I leave, I give to," these words were written on many papers for the Governor staff on April 30. What was it all about? It was the day all seniors in their English classes made out their wills. Class wills that is. The seniors left a variety of things ranging from the real to the highly impossible. It's a tradition for seniors to leave something to either the school, teachers, or underclassmen.

The seniors take full advantage of this tradition, and it provides a lot of fun and laughs when it is put out by the Governor staff.

"Pretty as a picture" was the theme, and a spring garden and picture frame was the setting, as girls from Mrs. Howard Iverson's Home Economics classes made pretty portraits by modeling their spring and summer outfits which ranged from plaid bermudas to floor length formals. The fashion show was held May 6 during the Industrial Arts exhibit. On May 7 at the exhibit girls from Mrs. Michalewicz's Home Economics classes also held a style show. These girls had previously studied a unit on children's clothing and had each made a child's garment which they had the little children model. The girls also modeled garments they made for themselves ranging from wool to cool cotton.

Byron Strom, former Riggs High student, is valedictorian of his class at Oyster River High School, Durham, New Hampshire. Byron attended Riggs through his junior year, and received a certificate of merit from the National Merit Scholarship test which he took during his junior year.

The Spanish Club held a typical Spanish and Mexican dinner on May 14th. The dinner was held in the Community Room of the Pierre National Bank for club members and their guests. Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Neiles, Mr. and Mrs. White and Mr. and Mrs. Miner. Fred Pehler was presented with a gift certificate, as he had been elected by the members as the person who has done the most for the club.

The Latin Club observed Latin Week April 19-23 by putting up various displays. A party in the study hall Friday evening culminated the activities. Mrs. Leo Heck is the Latin teacher and sponsor of the club.

Would you like to have a lifetime occupation as a secretary or a forest ranger? According to the attendance results of Career Day, April 21, Riggs students showed the greatest interest in Secretarial Occupations and in Forestry. Also ranked among the top ten in popularity was Social Service, Law Enforcement, Engineering, Beauty Operations, High School Teaching, Nursing, Law, and Home Economics Occupations.

Camels, Crepe Paper, and Cardboard Decorate Prom

Would you repeat that name please? Scheherezade was the theme for this year's Junior-Senior Prom, held May 1 in the Riggs High School gym. But it is also the name of a beautiful Arabian princess who entertained her husband each night with a story in order to keep herself alive.

At six o'clock twelve waiters and fourteen waitresses dressed in Arabian costumes ushered the Seniors to their seats at the banquet tables, where they were served appetizers, tossed salad, ham, baked potatoes, rolls, cake, and milk in the atmosphere of a desert evening, complete with soft background music. Mr. Elroy Glanzer, American history teacher, gave the main address, the waitresses did their traditional dance, and the Juniors provided entertainment for the rest of the program.

The Seniors were then joined by the Juniors for the prom. The entrance was a large tent made of red, black, and white crepe paper strips and was supported by two giant palm trees. Basketball hoops and steel rafters were disguised with a false ceiling of blue crepe paper sprinkled with suspended stars, while folding bleachers were miraculously covered by huge pastel murals of desert scenes and transformed into small tents, with the aid of a little crepe paper. At the north end of the gym were two seven and one half feet high camels made of corrugated cardboard. Two more of the large palm trees, a few coconuts, a sandy beach, and a shallow pond formed an oasis in the center of the floor.

At midnight Scheherezade returned to her husband to finish telling him the story that she had begun the night before, and the Juniors and Seniors left the Arabian sands for various "after prom" activities.

John Fritz Elected Mayor

In a run-off election held Monday, John Fritz defeated Dick Finke for office of first semester mayor for the 1965-66 school year. This is the first time the mayor has been elected in the spring.

Jack Robinson Jr. Wins Merit Award

Jack Robinson, Jr., is one of the seven South Dakota high school seniors to receive National Merit Scholarships in the nationwide competition. Jack plans to major in biochemistry at Michigan State University. He is the first Pierre student to accept a National Merit grant, although one other qualified in another year, but accepted another scholarship.

Jack is a member of the varsity football, basketball, and track teams, has maintained a straight A average in high school, plays the trombone in the high school band and ensembles, is president of National Honor Society, has been a class officer, is student representative of the AFS student exchange committee, and received a summer science study institute at Augustana College last year.

The National Merit program tests students in 17,150 schools which enroll about 90% of the students in the nation. There were 1 900 scholarships awarded this year. They are based on individual financial need and range from $400 to $6,000 or more for four years of college.

Riggs Offer D E

Distributive Education is a class being offered to Pierre Riggs High School senior students next year. The main objective of this class is to prepare seniors for useful employment in an occupation of their choice of which there are available openings.

The program, which will be conducted by Mr. Viril Layton, will consist of one hour of classroom work and a minimum of three hours of on-the-job training. There will be one class consisting of 15-20 students.

A student must be classified as a senior in school and sixteen years of age or older to be considered for the course. The student's job must be a learning situation that will continue for at least a semester. Weekly reports and contacts with his employer will keep the school informed of his progress. There shall be a written training agreement for each student covering the hours at work, salary schedule, units of work to be learned on the job and in school, and the probationary period in which the program may be terminated if the job and the students are not matched.

A "C" average is recommended to start the program. Employment should conform to local, state and federal laws governing employment of minors in business and industry. The student must be employed for a minimum of three continuous hours a day Monday through Friday. More than three hours per day is permissible. Students must be paid on hourly or weekly monetary wage based upon prevailing scale of wages paid beginners in that occupation in the community.

Aeronautics Students Visit Airport Weather Station

Could there be future astronauts in Mr. Robinson's Aeronautics classes? Mr. Robinson is dividing his class into three different sections and taking each section to the airport to see the different instruments that are out there, how weather reports for pilots are made, and in general to get a good view of what happens at an airport.

For the rest of the year the Aero students will be studying the different variations of Space Travel such as space exploration, space problems, and rockets and other projects that deal with space travel. The students in Aeronautics will also be required to collect up-to-date articles that are written about any phase of space travel.

Cowboy Queen Candidates to Have Busy Schedule

FRONT - LINDA, LONI, DIANNE, HELEN, and LINDA.

The Cowboy Queen Contest is now underway. The eight contestants are Helen Adams, Dianne Davis, Pat Huckfeldt, Patti Murphy, Loni Norman, Linda Pool, Cheryl Stageburg, and Linda White. The winner and two attendants will travel to some of the games with the teams.

These young ladies are being and will be entertained in many ways. Monday, May 10, a coke party was held for them at the Holiday Inn. Saturday, May 16 there was a breakfast at 9:30 for them at the Holiday Inn. The contestants will be interviewed on KCCR, sometime before June 1. They will be pictured in the paper and will appear on TV. They will be introduced to the crowd at the first home game of the season.

Governor Boe will meet with the contestants. The winner will be decided by the one who gets the most votes. So the girls will be working to sell as many tickets as possible. Anyone who buys a ticket can vote.

The queen will receive a whole western outfit, a twenty-five dollar savings bond and other gifts. The contest ends June 1.

Final Lyceum Features Program of Literature

"The Wonderful World of Words" was the title of the Lyceum program held April 29. Mr. Jay Flesner spent the hour reading several well-known selections by popular authors, some of which were, an excerpt from an Ann Landers column, some stories by James Thurber and an article by William Saroyan.

This program was designed to stimulate interest in reading and different forms of literature, also to show how reading develops communication.

Following the program, classes were attended by all but the Junior and Senior girls.

Mrs. Snyder, an instructor at the National School of Business in Rapid City, gave a half hour talk on poise and charm and its importance in every girl's life.

Mrs. Snyder a graduate of the John Robert Powers School of Charm in New York City now teaches the Nancy Taylor Charm Course at N. S. B. She also gave a few suggestions for self improvement in posture, personality and grooming.

Pep Club Initiates New Sophomores

"What in the world is going on around here" was one of many cries heard last week around Riggs.

The "old" Pep Club members were initiating the "new" members into the club. On Thursday, May 13, the "new" members had to wear: two different shoes; two different colored socks, either anklets or knee-highs, no nylons; a blouse outside their skirt that was not an overblouse; two pigtails with different colored ribbons, one green and one white; and a sign that said "I Am A Pep Club Initiate". On Friday the girls had to dress up, but still wear their signs. During those two days, any old member could stop a new member and make them sing or do a cheer either in study hall or between classes.

On the following Tuesday, the old members had a picnic in the park for the new members. There the new girls were told the faults they had committed, and were assigned to certain old members. The old members could either punish the new girls or else make them do odd jobs for a period of time. In the long run, everyone had fun.

Hail To The Graduating Seniors

Three cheers for the graduating Seniors. They are finally all full grown. Now they'll know what it's like To be out in the world on their own.

Year after year they have struggled,
From grade school to Senior High.
But grade after grade they have passed
And now they must say "good-bye"

Dear Seniors, Riggs High will miss you.
Though you can't wait to get out of her door,
But when you get out, you'll miss her,
And wish you were with her once more.

The memories of Riggs you'll remember,
To tell for the next fifty years,
Of your teachers and fellow classmates
And of your happiness and your tears.

You'll recall when you were a Sophomore,
As low man on the totem pole post,
But when you became a Junior,
You began to learn to boast!

Now that you are a Senior,
And graduation day draws near,
The Sophomores and Juniors will miss you,
But wish you "luck" year after year.

-- Pauline Theim

Hofer Explains Law Day

What was so special about May 1? Of course it was the day of the Prom, but it was important for another reason too. May 1 was Law Day.

The State's Attorney for Hughes County, Robert Hofer, explained at a short assembly April 30 on how the day originated and why it is still observed.

May 1 is a National Holiday in the Soviet Union; therefore, in the United States law enforcement is honored. Mr. Hofer told about the Constitution and how common law, or the people's law, originated and how it still applies. Mr. Hofer also stressed that everyone should remember Law Day and have respect for our form of government and law.

First Double Ruby Amid NFL Awards

Mrs. Ruzick presenting Harlow Hyde with the pin set with two rubies which this honor entitles him to.

At the recently held N.F.L. initiation, Harlow Hyde was presented a pin set with two rubies. To attain the double degree of distinction, or double ruby as it is called, required at least 500 points; no one in Pierre has ever received this degree before. Harlow earned it this year with a total of 523 points. Only about a hundred throughout the nation earn it each year. When Harlow's name appeared in the Rostrum (National Forensic League publication), it was one of four from South Dakota.

Gary Fleishacker, president of N.F.L., conducted the ceremony, assisted by Harlow Hyde, Pat Mulloy, Linda White, Rocky Boyd, and Eileen Disburg.

Those initiated with degree of merit - 25 points - were: Mike Cunningham, Lois Christianson, Craig Edwards, Blaine Foss, Mary Freeburg, Alan Fleishacker, David June, Sharla McKay, Dan May, Don Porter, Barb Stoneback, and Dana Tindell.

Those receiving degree of honor - 75 points - were: Craig Edwards, Blaine Foss, Alan Fleishacker, David June, Dan May, Don Porter, Dana Tindell, Ricky Boyd, Jan Fladeboe, and Jim McGibney.

Those receiving the degree of excellence - 150 points - were: Eileen Disburg, David June, Pat Mulloy, and Dana Tindell.

Those receiving the degree of distinction - 250 points - were Barb Hodgins and Pat Mulloy.

The ceremony was held in the chorus room of Riggs High School, April 27. Parents of the initiates were interested spectators. Mrs. Sam Ruzick, debate coach, is sponsor of the organization.

New officers of N.F.L. for next year:
Pres. - Jan Fladeboe
Vice Pres. - Ricky Boyd
Recording Sec. - Dana Tindell
Corresponding Sec. - Blaine Foss
Treasurer - Pat Mulloy

Five Join Guards

The largest single group of Pierre National Guardsmen to depart for basic and advanced training will leave May 28. The group will include Privates Gerry Boocock, Tom Fargen, Lyle McCaughey, Paul Mitchell, and Sgt. in charge Tom Noble.

Tom Noble is taking aviation and mechanics training; Tom Fargen and Paul Mitchell, communications training; Gerry Boocock, instruction as a wheeled vehicle mechanic; and Lyle McCaughey, instruction as an operations assistant.

The boys will take their basic training at Ft. Leonard Wood, Missouri. The length of the entire course varies from four to six months, after which they will return to Pierre and continue their military service as National Guardsmen for the balance of their enlistments.

Sheffer's Sharings Rapid City Soph's Sponsor Turtle Race

BY CAROL

"Evening in Venice" was the theme of the Jr.-Sr. Prom in Redfield, according to their school paper.

The theme of the Jr.-Sr. Prom in Lead was "Coral Reef".

"A Night in Camelot" was the theme of the Jr.-Sr. Prom in Rapid City.

The sophomore class of the Rapid City High School will sponsor a turtle race. Seven turtles will race, two representing each class and the anonymous contestant "the Phantom".

The theme of the Prom in Midland was "In Misty Moonlight".

"Tender is the Night" was the Spearfish High School Prom theme.

"Mardi-Gras" was the theme of the Junior-Senior prom at Northern State College in Aberdeen.

The Groton High School is going to have a "Relay Queen". Each of the three classes is sponsoring a candidate.

Trials Add Excitement to Civics Classes

The case of South Dakota vs. Todd Schultz came to an end May 6, as a jury of eight brought forth a not-guilty verdict at the mock court trial held in Mr. Ericson's third-hour Civics class. The students had been studying the state court systems and held a trial in order to see how a court is conducted. Everyone in the class was able to take part, with eight people on the jury, and Tony Urban serving as judge. Roger Jacobs was the prosecuting attorney and Robert Doren acted as Defense for the accused, Todd Schultz.

In the first-hour's court trial, Christie Iverson served as the judge and things became complicated as the case came to a close when Carl Schwenn broke down and confessed himself as the guilty party instead of the accused Dana Erickson.

Both of the trials lasted two days and provided a great deal of excitement. While the trials were entertaining, they gave the students a chance to observe and experience a court-room in action.

What's In A Name?

Once a Day I go Downtown to order a box of Red Roses for a Blue Lady. It gets rather expensive when there are Eight Days a Week. It took All Day and All of the Night to find JoAnn's name and address. But the roses get there faster when you send them on the Midnight Special. Then you know that The Race is On. Since the Midnight Special is King of the Road, The Little Old Lady from Pasadena better watch out.

One day when JoAnn received the box of roses, she opened it and there was a note for her mother. It said, "Mrs. Brown, You've got a Lovely Daughter." Mrs. Brown replied as she watched her daughter put away the roses, "Yes, she is a Pretty Woman isn't she?"

Then when her Kissin' Cousin asked JoAnn to go to a party she said very happily, "Count Me In." She was so excited that she said out loud, "Can't You Hear My Heartbeat?" Her mother said, "You better Stop In the Name of Love and get ready".

Since JoAnn was a good dancer her mother said, "Be sure and Do What You Do, Do Well". JoAnn said "I Don't Want To Spoil the Party by being late so I better go." So as she was going out the door she gave her mother a Last Kiss and left the Haunted House.

Girls' Physical Education Classes Put on Performance

Girls' Physical Education classes demonstrated their skills in a program for the public Wednesday evening, May 12. Mrs. Heer, girls' P.E. director, welcomed the spectators, after which the girls presented her with a corsage of red roses.
The tumbling team performed. Three classes of girls danced two dances; then each class did a separate folk dance. The first hour class did an American dance, the sixth hour class did a dance from Latvia and the seventh hour class did a set of exercises for physical fitness which was adapted to music by Linda Holland and Lois Snow.
After the rhythms and routines were finished, the girls presented Mrs. Heer with a dozen red roses.
All the classes played a volleyball tournament.

The winner was Zatz team from the seventh hour class. The Ball Busters, also from the seventh hour class, came in second.
A demonstration of the game cage ball was played while the two volley ball teams rested before playing for the championship.

Groff's Gossip

BY Jim Groff

Fort Pierre's Cliff Rever proved to be a one-man show at the Region IV track meet Monday. Rever copped three individual first and anchored the winning mile relay team. Rever accounted for twenty of Fort Pierre's points.
Pierre made a clean sweep in the shot-put, sending Gaylord Sonnenschein (12), Lyle Stuart (12), and Greg Walpole (9) to the state meet in Watertown today.
Steve Gerlach (10), was Pierre's outstanding performer, grabbing two firsts and a second. Gerlach won both hurdle events, turning in times of 16.3 in the high hurdles and 21.7 in the low hurdles. He also leaped 19' 10 1/2" in the broad jump. Jones of Fort Pierre had the winning leap of 20' 1 1/2".
Dana Erikson (12) had the crowd on the edge of their seats in the pole vault, clearing 12' 1 1/2". Dave Lindekugel (12) was second in the discus, getting off a fine heave of 146', his best ever.
Lyle Stuart won the high jump with a leap of 5' 9", while Gaylord Sonnenschein tied for fifth.
Jan Fladeboe qualified for the state meet running a 4.43 mile, placing him third.

Cliff Rever, meanwhile, raced home first in the 100 yard dash in 10.7, the 440 yard dash in 51.1 and the 880 yard dash in 2:02.4.
Pierre qualified all of their relay teams for the state meet. Jim Frost (10), Mike Moffat (11), Roger Jacobs (12), and George James (12) won the 880 yard relay in 1.37.3. John Fritz (11), Bob Gallimore (10), Bud Cassell (11), and Bernie Osberg (11) placed second in the Medley relay in the time of 3.49.8.
Roger Jacobs (12), Larry Hoffman (10), Gary Ellwanger (11), and George James (12) established a new school record in the mile relay with a time of 3.35.1. It can be said that this race provided the most excitement of the day and a fitting way to end the track meet. Pierre had built a substantial lead, going into the last lap, with Rever getting the baton nearly 35 yards behind the leader. Rever, however, took off after the leaders while the crowd gave him the chance to make up the big gap between him and the first place. On the first curve, Rever passed one and into third place, another and into second place, and finally on the last curve he caught James and raced home in 49.8 to lead the Buffaloes to victory.

Winner Wins Match

In the second golf meet with Winner Fred Pehler took medalist honors with an 85. The other scores for Pierre were Jeff Peterson with a 90, Dan Hanson with an 102, Ron Huber, the only Pierre golfer to beat his opponent in both rounds, with an 100 and Bob Brown with an 109. Pierre scored a total of 5 points against Winner's 9 points.

Fred Pehler, placing third with a 76, was one of the four Riggs High golfers who participated in the Winner Invitational meet.
The other golfers were Jeff Peterson with an 80, Dan Hanson with an 86, and Ron Huber with a 96.
The golfers were the first Pierre entries in a high school golf meet. It was also the first round the Pierre golfers had played on sand greens.

Awards Banquet Held

"Winning is fine but losing also teaches you how to be better men in the future", Milo Wepking, from Sioux Falls, said at the 16th Annual J.C. Athletic Award Banquet.
The four achievement award winners were announced also that night. They are standing from left to right - Bob Moore (wrestling); Paul Sherburne (football); Gaylord Sonnenschein (basketball); and Dana Erikson (track). These boys were chosen for the event because they had contributed most in effort, leadership and team hustle, commented Dean Sorenson, M. C.

New Coaches Named

Mr. Glanzer and Mr. Pries have accepted head positions on the Pierre coaching staff. Mr. Glanzer is going to take over as head coach of the varsity football team. Glanzer was line coach last year. Mr. Pries has assumed the responsibilities of leading the varsity basketball team. Pries coached the Junior varsity last year. Both coaches have had a lot of practice in their respective sports. Glanzer tried out for pro ball with the Denver Broncos, and Pries was a shooting ace for the Northern State College team. Pries scored 38 points in one game.

Loafing May Be Lost Art

My idea of an ideal job for the summer, or for any time, as far as that goes, is to loaf. Most people waste their valuable summer time trying to accomplish something, make something, learn something, or just earn money, while before they know it they will have lost their opportunities for learning the fine art of loafing.

Before you decide to spend any time loafing you should know why it's important. In this mad world it's almost impossible to ever relax once you get going. Without the experience of at least one summer of loafing, you may never know what pleasure there is in it or how to relax at all. Loafing is getting to be an extinct art, and unless we do something about it, it may be lost forever.

Now, there is the question, and it's a very important one, who should loaf? Not all people can, you know. Some people have to be going strong all the time; if they had to sit still all the time, they would probably have a mental breakdown. These are the kind of people who need to learn to loaf the most, but unless something, such as a serious illness, can slow them down, they will never stop working and worrying.

If you decide you are of the right temperament to loaf for the summer there are a few rules which I have found helpful. First of all, get the idea in your head that you don't have to do anything! The first couple of days you should not do a thing but sleep late and lie around the house. After you are tired of not doing anything get a few good books that you've always wanted to read, or go to the beach for the day. Anything that you have always wanted to do, but haven't had time to do is just the thing to spend your time at. Just don't forget that you don't have to do it if you don't want to.

As you can see from what I've pointed out, everyone could gain from a summer of loafing; so, why don't you try it?

COMMENCEMENT

Quite a feeling it is,
Traveling from day into night,
Leaving behind all hope,
Launching a new pligh.

With your diploma your ship;
Your heart your pilot.
But what shall be your guiding star?
And where shall it lead you?

Yet on this, the edge of night
A new star glides by
And sends down
A beam of inspiration.

You awaken to the beauty of the night before the dawn.
As twelve stars dwindle and die,
This one star, gleaming brightly from the heavens,
Points the way.

Spring Play, Peter Pan, Presented at Riggs

The Spring play titled "Peter Pan" showed a lot of motion and activity during its two nights of production, April 21 and 23.

The play, written by James M. Barrie, was presented by the following students of Riggs High: Good Fairy of Never Land, Pat Huckfeldt; Nana, Karen Thompson; Michael, Walter Poile; Mrs. Darling, Pam Fillmore; John, Don Henrichson; Wendy, Gloria Ray; Mr. Darling, John Bennett; Peter Pan, Mickey Ballweg; Liza, Eileen Disburg; Slightly and Toodles, Vada Trimble; Nibs, Dennis Stepanek; Curly, Pat Murphy; First twin, Linda Pool; Second twin, Cheri Smith; Captain Hook, Len Allen; Cecco, Janice Newlon; Bill Jukes, Terry Harding; Cookson, Kay Cameron; Gentleman Starkey, Rod Louison; Mullins, Dick Harding; Smea, Russell Stoneback; Tiger Lily, Sandra Phillips (21st) and Susanne Kirley (23rd); Panther, David Hall; Indian, Ester Rodriques; Crocodile, Connie Smith; Mermaids, Linda Hanson, Sandra Gordon, and Dianne Leslie; Rabbit, Jamie Damon; and the Lost boys, Layton Pennington and Cevey Pennington.

In spite of the few catastrophies, a light bulb blowing up and breaking, the big rock tearing apart and Mike Norton rocking-the-boat, the play was a success.

"It went very nicely. Small children really enjoyed it" said Mrs. Pennington, director.

Assistant director was Steve Cyr; technical director was Cheryl Stageberg.

Mrs. Alice Smith and her art students made the scenery. Most of the costumes were made by Vada Trimble and assistants. Connie Smith made her own alligator costume. The mermaids also made their own. Indian dresses belonged to the school except for Sandy Phillip's costume and the Indian head-dresses. Mr. and Mrs. Darling wore their own clothes. The Good Fairy's costume was made by Mrs. Stageberg.

The back stage crew were as follows: Stage manager, Mike Norton; assistant, Don Henrichson; Lights, Mike Brewster; assistants, Sam Adams, Terry Verilek; publicity, Pat Huckfeldt; props, Martha Ackerman; make-up, Judy Robinson; assistants, Cheryl Graves, and Gloria Ellwanger.

Unfortunately, the money made on the Peter Pan production was stolen when the office safe was broken into. According to Mrs. Pennington, the next play to be presented should be titled "Where Did the Money Go?"

Suddenly it is day.

Your now invisible star still points;
Your feet are in the clouds;
At last you have found the way.

-- Pam Hubbard

Principal's Office is A Busy Place

Mrs. Ann Huber and assistants, Barbara Forchtner and Loni Norman.

One of the busiest places in school any day is Principal Neiles's office, but at the end of a school year, activity increases. Details pertaining to graduation, baccalaureate, awards night, transcripts for seniors, attendance records, grades, make-up slips, phone calls about absences, the daily bulletin plus inter-com announcements and dozens of other matters are handled by Mrs. Huber, office secretary. She is assisted by Mr. Roger Lonbaken first and fifth periods. Student office girls this year were: seniors, Barbara Forchtner, Pamela Hubbard, Wrenda Herther, Suzanne Hickman, and Rita Englehaupt; juniors, Loni Norman, Linda Snyder, and Linda White; and sophomore Elizabeth Bruce.

Shop Courses Teach Skills and Provide For Hobbies

Two courses that are very helpful and educational to young men and interested girls are woodworking and general metals. Both subjects are taught at the junior high shop, with approximately fifteen students in each class.

These two courses, which are taught by Mr. Larry Fritza fifth and seventh periods respectively, are subjects that create an interest in various occupations. They also give the students a chance to use the skills they have learned in these areas and apply them by making projects. Another advantage is that these courses provide hobbies for these people in later life.

After learning the fundamentals of these subjects, students are given all sorts of opportunities to specialize in various fields in industry.

Teaching and working in industrial shops or factories are just two of the many job opportunities for young men or ladies who have the ability and liking to take up industrial courses either in college or at an industrial trade school.

Some projects that the boys are working on in woodworking are water skis, and many other projects.

Some woodworking projects that were shown at the Art Exhibit Friday, May 7th are as follows: a nut bowl made by Ken Long, a salad bowl made by Lavern Hunsley, a cedar chest made by Wayne Kelly, an end table made by Doug Hillmer, a lawn chair - by Jim Beastrum, a magazine rack by Larry French, and two lamps made by Wayne Kelly and Bruce Stevens.

Teachers' Plans For Summer Vary

Mrs. Lawrence Iverson will be moving to Florida to make her home.

Miss Marlene Libert will be studying for two months in Quito, Ecuador.

Mr. Flannery plans to continue his work and also do some painting.

Mr. Lonbaken is going to be working here at the school painting.

Mrs. Smith hopes to go to Spearfish to take a course in art. She plans to go to Hill City to visit her folks also.

Miss Trish is planning to stay in Indiana and take graduate work.

Mr. and Mrs. Plinske are planning a trip to the West Coast.

Mr. Peterson is going to manage the swimming pool with Mr. McHenry.

Mr. Robinson is going to be teaching six weeks at Southern State at Springfield and six weeks at Black Hills State College in Spearfish.

Mrs. Spitzer is planning a vacation to Georgia for part of the summer, and the rest will be spent at home.

Mr. Fritza will attend Northern State College and go to Omaha for a while on a vacation.

Mrs. Winifred Iverson plans on going to SDSU in Brookings for one month. The rest of the summer she plans to spend at home.
