Celia Hernandez
AFS For Riggs

Celia Garcia Hernandez, Riggs foreign exchange student, is from Caracas, Venezuela. She went to a school for girls in Venezuela before coming to Pierre. For fun and recreation, Celia did homework, went to movies, visited with friends and bowled. Her favorite week end spot was the beach. Her father is the minister of Agriculture for Venezuela and president of the Club Puerto Azul. There are six children in her family. Celia said that boys and girls do things in groups in Venezuela, such as dancing and listening to orchestras. Also, the students date in groups and arrive home around 10:30. One thing different about their type of dating is that the boys serenade the girls.

Celia said that in her school the teachers change rooms, not the students. The hours are the same; however, they have twenty minutes to eat and go to church. From 11:00 until 2:00 they have a siesta. In Venezuela, all students take the same subjects. They have five years of high school, three years of which are required subjects. The last two years students can choose between language and science courses. Her school begins in October and ends in July.

Before returning home, Celia will take a tour of Washington, D. C., and other states.

Riggs Students Go To Student Council Meeting In Rapid

Representatives Vada Trimble (12), Steve Gerlach (12), Jo Lehecka (11), Betty Frei (11), Mary Wilcox (10), and Jim Hunt (10), were elected by Student Council to attend a state-wide student council meeting in Rapid City, Oct. 1st.

Officers elected were Lloyd Erickson, president pro-tem, and Peggy Wilcox, secretary-treasurer.

Homecoming Royalty Lead Parade

Homecoming preparations began with the nomination of Marshall and Queen candidates by the senior class. Queen candidates were: Gretchen Dirks, Linda Humphrey, Kathy Strudle, and Janet Peterson. Marshall candidates were: Bruce Bad Moccasin, Lloyd Erickson, Ray Palmer, and Larry Hoffman. Voting results were kept secret until the evening of Thursday, September 22nd.

Coronation activities began with a few selections played by the Riggs High School band. Mayor Roy Wise started the program. As the band played the Indian dance music, the Minneshosho Day Royalty marched in. Queen Gretchen Dirks and Marshall Bruce Bad Moccasin led the procession, followed by Princesses Linda Douglas and Suzette Schliessmann and other attendants.

After the procession reached the stage, the royal couple were crowned with Indian headdresses by Peggy Wilcox. The Queen was presented roses from the Student Council and a gift from the Pep Club, and the Marshall received a gift from the senior class.

Kathy Gross entertained the royalty by singing "Indian Dawn," and Nancy Askwig and Paula Moore did a dance routine. Mrs. Norman and Monte Curry gave a short talk. Mrs. Norman talked about the Homecoming of 1946 and Mr. Curry about Homecoming in 1950.

Coach Jon Horning introduced the football team and head coach, Bud Glanzer. Coach Glanzer read a poem, "It's All in the State of Mind." Comet Haraldson and Lloyd Erickson, representing the team, told of the team's progress. The cheerleaders conducted the traditional Minneshosho cheer and led the audience in a pep fest. After the program there was a coke party and a dance.

Homecoming Day festivities began with a parade. Float awards were given to "Tame the Cubs," Best in Parade; "Bug 'Em," Most Original; "Frost 'Em," Most Beautiful, and "Skunk 'Em," Spirit of the Day.

Five Homeroom Floats Win

Eighteen floats, led by Queen Gretchen Dirks, Marshall Bruce Bad Moccasin, and their royal court, paraded slowly down the streets of Pierre last Friday, September 23.

The floats, all urging the "Governors" to victory over the Chamberlain "Cubs," were entered in four categories. The "Most Beautiful" prize went to Mr. Schumacher, Mr. Judson and Mrs. Ruzick's senior homeroom, with the caption "Frost 'Em."

"Most Original" went to Miss Hieb's sophomore homeroom with "Bug 'Em," "Skunk 'Em," took the "Spirit of the Day" prize for Mr. Green's junior homeroom, and "Tame the Cubs" received the "Best in Parade" for Mr. Fjelstad's junior homeroom. They also received the trophy given by the Pierre National Bank for the winning float in that category.

The senior high, junior high, grade school, and Ft. Pierre bands also marched in the parade.

Class Officers Elected

Junior-Senior Prom.

Last is Virginia Bartlett, who was elected class treasurer. Virginia said that although she feels very fortunate to belong to one of the few classes that have never had to pay junior class dues, she thought that more than likely seniors will have to pay dues in order to buy the traditional class gift. Virginia is president of the South Dakota State Library Assistants Association, president of the Spanish Club, editor of the "Governor," and was an alternate for Girls State.

Paul Lerdal, junior class president, feels this will be a challenging year for the juniors and that it will require a lot of cooperation among class members to meet the challenge. Paul stated, "We will present the seniors with the best prom ever." He participates in Varsity football, debate, and 4-H, and is Luther League Conference president. The Lerdal family moved here from Baltic, South Dakota, a year ago.

Junior class vice president, Tom Olson, also believes the biggest problem of the junior class is a lack of cooperation. Tom moved here a year ago from Sioux Falls, South Dakota, where he was a member of Student Council. Here he is a member of the Varsity football team and an area representative to the United Church Youth.

Jackie Downes, secretary of the junior class, was also class secretary her sophomore year. A member of Student Council, she also enjoys painting and reading.

Sheila Cholik, junior class treasurer, is Pep Club secretary, secretary of the regional Latin Club, and a member of Student Council.

Mary Wilcox, president of the sophomore class, is very excited about the coming year. She moved here from Hurley, South Dakota, about a year ago. She is active in F. T. A., chorus, band, and Student Council.

Judy Pugh, vice president, is in band, debate, and glee club.

The secretary, Mary Neiber, who is also in band, feels they should be more organized.

Rhys Schmidt is treasurer and is also active in band.

Is School Spirit Sagging?

You are an old timer if you can remember when Pierre Senior High's school spirit was considered the best in the state. At football games of yesterday the fans were seldom in their seats. Everyone was so excited and were willing to go right out on the field to help their boys. With every cheer the cheerleaders started a monotonous response that expanded to a deafening roar.

Now a few hearty souls yell their hearts out while the rest of the "fans" sit and discuss the new boy or perhaps a hot number. There is no excuse for the decline of school spirit. We are as good, if not better, than the students of years gone by. Why can't we put more go-power into our response at games and pep meetings?

Crowd participation is as important as the plays of the team. Many a game is won or lost by school spirit. If we yell hard enough and long enough the boys can't help but do their best. It is a wonderful feeling to know the entire school is behind the boys when they go out on the field.

We need not only to support our boys but we should get to know them better. How many of you know who our fullbacks are? After all, the boys are playing for us and our school. The least we can do is support them whole heartily.

This year is our first year in the Eastern Conference and we have a lot tougher competition. For this reason alone we should and can give our boys more support than ever. At the next game "YELL!"

(I'll even furnish the cough drops.)

Honesty Pays - Not Stealing

Riggs High School can be proud of many things. The students of Riggs have a fine school, a faculty of teachers who are interested in them, and an understanding principal, Mr. Neiles. But the students at Riggs have a very serious problem. This problem is stealing. If the people stealing are doing it for a joke, it really isn't funny. However, if it's being done just to be cruel, they're accomplishing their purpose.

Some reported stolen items are rings, money, jerseys, and lunches. There are probably more things that have not been reported.

It is hard to understand how a person could enjoy a stolen lunch, wear a stolen jersey or ring, or spend money taken from someone else's locker.

Riggs students are of a higher caliber than to resort to these low standards. Only the guilty students can remedy this.

Editor's Lament

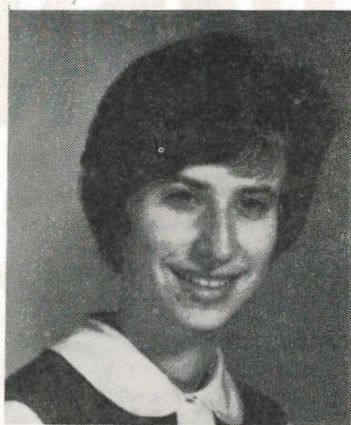

Getting out this paper is no picnic. If we print jokes, people say we are silly. If we don't, they say we are too serious. If we don't print contributions, we don't appreciate genius! If we do, the paper is filled with junk!

If we clip things from other papers, we are too lazy to write them for ourselves, if we don't, we are stuck on our own stuff. Now, like as not, some guy will say, We swiped this from some other paper -- WE DID!

Judi Writes Of Exchange Trip

Judi Gifford, senior, was notified last summer of her AFS appointment to a town in north England. She will be writing several letters a month home and the "Governor" will be printing excerpts from them so that we may all share in her experience abroad.

Anyone wishing to write to Judi should address their letters to Miss Judi Gifford August 21 - "I didn't care for New York City but I love the sea! ... Our U. K. (United Kingdom) counselor is Celia Johnson, age 27, a former AFS'er to Redwing, Minn., and she grew up in Newcastle, but is now living in southern England. There's really a lot to learn about England and Celia says that the northern accent is so heavy that southern Englanders can't even understand it, much less Americans. So it will be almost like a new language for a while at least. She says that Americans pick up the British accent and then find it hard to lose once back in the States.

August 29 - We received our AFS wings this morning. They signify that we've passed "training school" and are ready to fly solo ... It's surprising now much that one little pin means to all of us. It symbolized everything AFS is - the hard work to get where we are, the worries of leaving and arriving, the troubles in adjusting, the aches of homesickness, the pride in being selected, the responsibility in going to a foreign country, the excitement of a year abroad -- the list goes on and on, but I know you will understand what I haven't said, what I can't put into words.

September 4 - Well, I finally made it. And what a wonderful feeling it is to be here at last ... (since we missed our train.) We all ended up in Celia's apartment in Chelsea section of London for the night. We also had one of the Scottish chaperones with us, David, a next door neighbor of Celia's, took four of us around London in his little Jaguar ...

Riggs Gets Benches

Every year the graduating class at Riggs High School selects a gift and donates it to the school. The class of '66 gave the school the stone benches which are located in front of the school. The benches may be used by the students during lunch hour and before and after school.

Variety Show Presented

A portion of the "Tonight on Broadway" variety show was presented for the entire school on Friday, September 9. Among the presentations were "The Fourth Dimension in Music," an instrumental group; Sandra Defay, a female vocalist; baritone Kent Christensen; comedian Vernon Whipple, and the Torgerson Brothers, a banjo and guitar duo. The show was emceed by Roy Baumgart.

The entire "Tonight on Broadway" show was presented on Saturday, September 10, at the Pierre City Auditorium. The performers in the show have appeared on various stages from New York to California and from Canada to Mexico.

What a beautiful city -- especially at night. We drove around Buckingham Palace and some other places and squares and ended with driving around and through Picadilly Circus.

The next afternoon we traveled through absolutely beautiful country until about 4:15 when we crossed the Tyne River and stopped in Throckley ... Katy wasn't with Mother and Dad because she was on an excursion with the French kids. Mother was waiting by the car and amid tears and exclamations of joy we set off for Throckley -- about 15 minutes away. Katy arrived home shortly after tea time -- about 6:00.

September 8 - We went shopping in Newcastle ... around 10:30 and met two other girls in one of the department stores ... Most of our shopping was for school items for me, such as a rough-book (small notebook), ruler, rubber (eraser), pen, pencil case, etc. I figured out the prices on what I bought compared to our prices at home and most of the items were cheaper. Clothing is also quite a lot cheaper.

Wednesday we got up about 7:00 and left for school at 8:15. Katy took me to Miss Evans, head of the girls at the school. There are actually three schools on the campus. There are 950 in my grammar school this year. All the buildings are fairly new and were built about seven years ago.

My A-level subjects are English Literature, Economics and Music ...

Assembly is at 9:00 and classes start at 9:45. School is out at 4:00 ... We all stand and wait until we are told to sit down whenever a teacher enters the room.

Missionary Speaks

Walter Kronmeyer, a missionary, told about "The Jungle Trails of Africa," to the general assembly on September 15. He lived among the primitive tribes in the jungles of Africa for 14 years. His home was a thatched mud hut and he ate the same kind of food as the natives did, which consisted mostly of rice and wild game. His experiences with the witch doctors, who played on the people's ignorance, was especially interesting.

Mr. Kronmeyer appeared under the Management Division of Supervised Study from the State University at Fargo, North Dakota.

All-State Choir Members, Small Groups Announced

Those selected were: sopranos, Dana Slaathaug, Mary Freeburg, Kathy Gross; altos, Chris McKee, Charlene O'Neill, Vada Trimble; tenors, Ray Tobin, Roy Wise, Larry Randolph; bass, Brian Smith, Ray Palmer, Bill Benesh.

Gym Activities Planned

This year the two Physical Education teachers have a very interesting schedule planned.

The boys in Mr. Horning's classes are on soccer at the present and will be working all year out of a Canadian Air Force exercise book.

The girls in Miss Pickering's classes are starting out this year on soccer also.

The "Orange and Black" of Washington Senior High School, Sioux Falls, claims that Dave Carlson broke the National Pool Marathon Record. He played pool for 75 hours straight.

The Rapid City "Pine Needle" reports that there has been a lot of chattering among the senior Apes, or as Miss Zamow explains, her Advanced Placement English Students.

Group instruction courses were a recent addition to Lincoln High according to their paper, "The Statesman." Subjects to be taught this way include English and American History.

Too Much Attention?

Students in America don't have it so hard! In Latvia, reports Redfield's "Pheasant Call," if a boy dances with the same girl more than three times in one evening, he could be made to marry her. If a teacher thinks a student is paying too much attention to the opposite sex, he could have him expelled.

The "Pointer Trail" of Van Buren High School, Van Buren, Arkansas, claims that they have hired Batman and Robin to see that there is no smoking in parked cars. Offenders will receive 39 hat-lashes.

The Safety Committee of Redfield High School has gotten off to a flying start - in the wrong direction, reports "The Pheasant Call." The committee painted some crosswalks a "ghastly yellow" and were promptly informed by the police that yellow crosswalks were against regulations. The walks were quickly repainted.

You've Got Problems!

2. He takes you up to the bluff to really look for UFO's.
3. Your date introduces you to his friends as an April Fool's joke.
4. She wants to go to the drive-in just to see "Thunderball" again.
5. Your girlfriend cuts her hair and you find out it's your old friend, Fred.
6. He orders a hamburger with onions.
7. He slams the car door on your foot and doesn't say "excuse me."
8. He would rather watch "Peyton Place" than watch you.
9. He calls to ask what time he is to pick you up because he forgot what he said.
10. He takes you to the drive-in so he can see what kind of hubcaps the other guys have.

Notice To All Riggs Students

Many of the "Governor's" readers have brothers, sisters, sons, daughters, or friends who have graduated from Riggs and have received honors from colleges, accomplished something out of the ordinary in their work, or have gotten married.

If an alumni you know has done anything of interest let the editors or the advisor of the "Governor" staff know and the item will be printed.

Gov's Lose Key Players

The Pierre Governors not only suffered a defeat at Aberdeen score-wise, but player-wise. Early in the first half Pierre lost two key players for the season. Larry Hoffman, veteran half back, suffered a spiral break of his left arm. Roy Wise, a senior end, tore two cartilages and a ligament in his leg.

Both boys have stated their personal feelings about being out for the season. They said they feel privileged to have worked with such a fine group of boys as the Governors and their coaches. Although they will not be out on the field physically, their spirits will continue to play.

The football team was honored them by making them Honorary Captains of the Homecoming game.

Runnin' Crosscountry

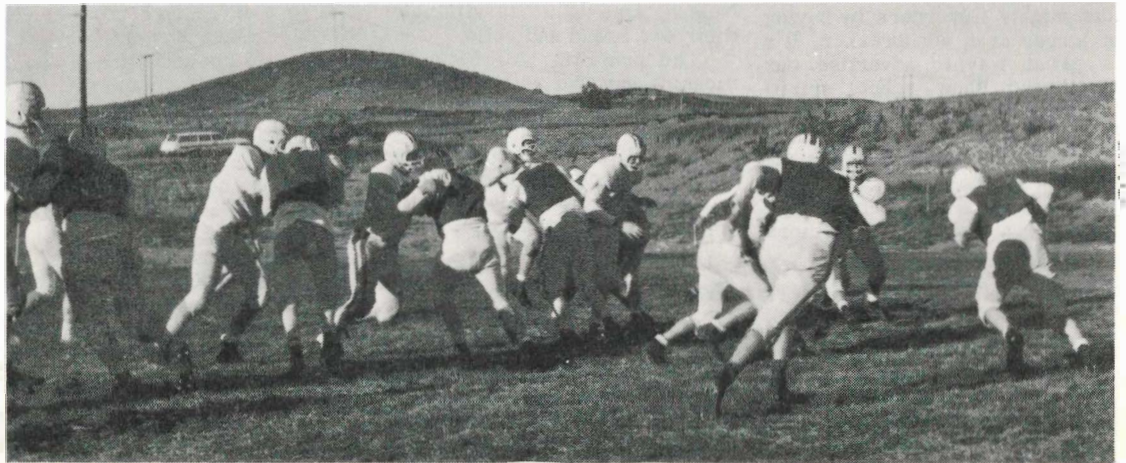

Returning lettermen are Bruce Bad Moccasin and Jim Frost. Wayne Jackson is another senior member.

Bobby Ellwanger, No. 11, rounds the corner for Pierre's 3 T. D.

John Davis, No. 24, rounds the corner to pick up some yardage.

Governors Enter ESD Conference

The Eastern South Dakota Conference is considered to be the strongest athletic conference in the state. It is made up of the following teams: the Aberdeen Eagles, the Watertown Arrows, the Brookings Bobcats, the Madison Bulldogs, the Huron Tigers, the Mitchell Kernels, the Yankton Bucks, and now the Pierre Governors. Sioux Falls Washington High was originally a member but dropped out last year. Pierre then applied for membership and was admitted as an official member to compete in all sports, with the exception of football, beginning this school year. Pierre will be included in the conference standings in football beginning this school year.

Besides football, conference members compete in basketball, cross-country, golf, tennis, track and wrestling. The conference champions are determined on the basis of win and loss records. The Governors compete with each conference team once in football and wrestling, and twice in basketball (once at home and once away).

Due to Pierre's centralized location, the team will be making longer trips. A bus has been chartered for this purpose. The athletic schedule will be more uniform because the Governors will play all the conference teams at least once each year.

Special conference events will be a cross-country meet at Brookings on October 14, a wrestling tournament at Huron on December 17, and a golf and tennis meet on May 27.

Dear Reader,

With school now in full swing our sports activities are under way. I will try my best to present to you a sports page that will be interesting and informative. My approach to the games will be slightly altered from last year. All sports will be represented by pictures more than written re-hashes of game figures. I hope this new method of coverage meets with your approval.

Overheard In The Halls

by Paula & Ava

With a new school year came several new crazes. First of all, what's this new dance called the "Big Apple?" Watch Mary Schliessmann for secret signals.

Let's be really friendly this year! To greet a fellow senior, give him a hearty "Senior wave." They'll love you for it.

Well, the girls are learning to knit in the Home Ec classes again this year. Have you noticed Rich Shangreaux in seventh period study hall? Seems that he, too, has mastered this maternal art. Rich feels that when his funds run low, he can knit his own clothing.

Erb Holst's chem stool is hard to balance. Is it one-legged?

We hope that Randy Hubbard has recovered from his "fall" in fifth period English class. He really knows how to obey orders!

Mr. Ruzick has one student who doubts his definition of a "fish bowl." Nevertheless, chem students, your papers MUST go in it. Don't worry, they won't get wet. (It's unbreakable, too.)

Hey gang! Let's show our appreciation to Coach Glanzer and his mighty Governors by buying a jersey or a windbreaker. It's a great way to advertise our team and show school spirit!

Guess what - Marilyn Darland has one green foot and one blue foot. Besides that, she's been walking on the walls ... Marilyn!

We think a new record may have been set -- 33 seniors crammed themselves into the back of a pickup on Coronation Night, P. S. We hope all the bruises clear up soon!

The "Most Beautiful Float" trophy was won by Mr. Schumacher and Mr. Judson's home-rooms. It seems that they had a little trouble deciding on their theme, though. It was changed four times before it finally was dubbed "Frost 'Em" on Wednesday night.

Student question of the year: Whatever happened to that legendary fantasy called the "School Constitution?"

If any of you have some items of interest or complaints of any kind, we'd like to voice them for you. Just turn them into the editors of this column. See you next issue!

Lunch Program Begins October

The Riggs High School lunch program will begin the first week in October. The program has been delayed during the month of September due to the lack of equipment.

Each meal will include a main course, fruit, vegetable, milk and a desert.

The director, Mrs. Barnard Nelson, also said they will make their own bread and rolls.

The program will be open, meaning no one is required to come. The approximate cost per meal will be 30 cents. It hasn't been decided yet whether there will be lunch tickets or not.

Fourth period study hall will be held as it is regularly.

Safety Corner

By Vada

Upon doing some research on the subject of safety, I found myself reading the short address someone somewhere had written. I think this is a very good summary of safety.

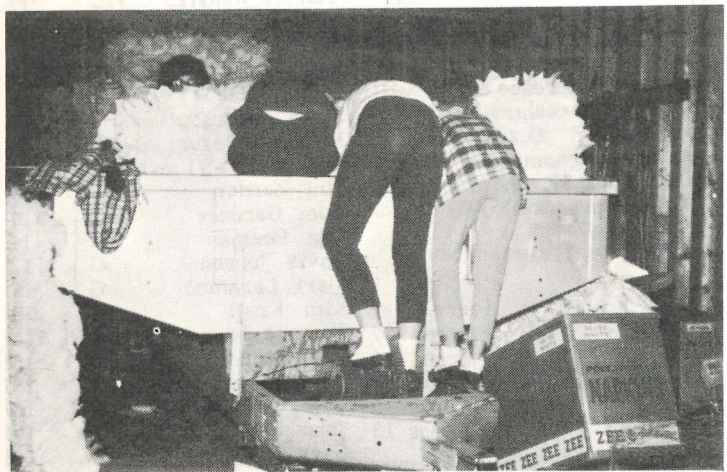

Safetyburg Address

Three score and two years ago, Henry Ford brought forth to this country a new machine, conceived in speed and dedicated to the proposition that all men have a right to transportation. Now we are engaged in a great debate, discussing whether the 16-year-old or the 18-year-old should be allowed to drive. We are met at the turning point of that debate. We are met to decide whether or not this should be legislated into law.

It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this, but in a greater sense -- we cannot legislate -- we cannot force -- we cannot dictate safe driving. The safe drivers, young and old, have proven that safe driving is possible without legislation. The world will little note, nor long remember the careful teen-age driver, but it will never forget the careless teen-age driver. It is for us, the teenagers, rather to be dedicated here to prove that teen-agers aren't always bad drivers. It is for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us, that from the good drivers having gone before us, we take increased devotion to the proof that teen-agers can be good drivers, that we here highly resolve that Driver's Education courses shall not be in vain, that the teen-ager, without law, shall have a new birth of responsibility, and that automobile accidents of the teen-ager, by the teen-ager, and with the teen-ager, and with the teen-ager SHALL vanish from this country.

A Trip To Rome

Where would you like to go for the summer, France, Italy, Germany, Spain, or Greece? Shirley Hickman went to Rome, Italy, and had the time of her life. She went with the Foreign Language League. The purpose of the trip was to study art, history, and the Italian language.

Shirley left Pierre on July 18. From here she drove to Omaha, Nebraska, where she met her group, consisting of four students from Red Oak, Iowa, and one from Shennendoah, Iowa. Shirley was the only South Dakota student to make such a trip. From Omaha they flew to New York City, and from there they flew a chartered flight with the other 180 students to Rome.

The stewardess had quite a trip, for there were about five guitars playing at once. Of course, all the students had fun, but the only thing the stewardess was saying was, "I give up. I give up with Rock'n Roll." Then the moment came which everyone was waiting for, they saw Rome. Shirley remarked that Rome was just beautiful.

During her six weeks there she lived at the Casa Dello Studente Dormitory at the University of Rome. It wasn't all fun, for Shirley attended school from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m., Monday through Friday. Her afternoons were spent shopping, sightseeing, or at the beach, where the University students went. She spent her week ends on various excursions, consisting of visits to Venice, Naples and Pompei.

The conveniences in Rome are quite different from what she is used to here in America. Spaghetti was served for every meal. It was what we call an "appetizer." The meat and vegetables were cold as ice. Not only their food was cold, but so was their water for showers. Every night Shirley had to take a cold shower because the hot water was turned off at 2 p.m.

Some of her enjoyable moments were climbing St. Peters, a mountain, walking to the Trivi fountain, and seeing the Spanish steps covered with flowers.

Every year the Mayor of Rome gives a reception for the F. L. L. At the reception the students present him a gift symbolizing their part of the United States. Shirley presented him with a Black Hills gold tie clasp.

She hated to leave Rome, but most of all she hated to leave all the friends she made while she was there. She won't miss Europe too much, because next year she plans to go again.

S.W.E.A.T. Gets Victim

Mary Homeyer, a Riggs High School senior, participated in a unique pilot program called "Summer Work Experience and Training (S. W. E. A. T.)." This program was sponsored at Redfield State Hospital and schools during the summer months.

Mary was among 12 South Dakota high school students selected. She received $180 a month, plus room and board, with two days off weekly. Mary, specializing in mental retardation, worked with a ward of 24 eight year olds. She entertained them educationally through games. Mary stated that "more people should take an interest in the mentally retarded. I am sure they would be glad they had taken the time to do so."

This program was supported by state and federal funds. It provides experience for students of high caliber interested in the field of mental retardation.
